CLEARFIELD, PA., JULY 21, 1869.

REPUBLICAN STATE TICKET.

FOR GOVERNOR:

JOHN W. GEARY, of Cumberland co.

FOR JUDGE OF SUPREME COURT:

HENRY W. WILLIAMS, of Allegheny co.

"Roosts Lower."

Last year Asa Packer was a candidate for the Presidency. At considerable expense he managed to have his name presented to the New York convention, where he was ignominiously defeated by Seymour. He is willing to "roost lower" now, and only wants to be Governor. After his defeat in October, which is just as certain as that there will be an election, he will be satisfied to roost still lower, and will probably want the position of "Alderman" of his "adopted town." Like Andy Johnson, he has a wonderful hankering after office, but unlike Andy, who began with alderman and went up, he began with President and is coming down. By the time he gets through the whole list, and runs Frank Hughes "gauntlet," his pockets will be so empty, that there would be enough of the twenty millions left to give him a decent burial. Then the most significant alliteration of the "P's" will be, Pity Poor Packer, Picked, Plucked and Plundered.

The Copperhead Platform.

We publish to day the platform of the Democracy of Pennsylvania, adopted at Harrisburg on July 14th, 1869. It completely ignores the events of the last ten years. It upholds the States Rights doctrine that brought on the war—opposes free suffrage, and squints at a return of slavery and the continued oppression of the colored race. It says in effect, give us power and we will restore the old order of things—slavery, terrorism, mob-law, free-trade, mixed currency, and everything calculated to keep down the poor and elevate the rich. Are the people of Pennsylvania willing to take the back-track and endorse it? We think not.

COMMENCED EARLY.—We learn that the Copperhead tricksters held a meeting the other night, and made arrangements to raise money to bet on the election. Each man is instructed to get as many Republicans as possible to bet with him small sums, for the purpose of challenging their votes at the polls. We hope our friends will be on their guard, and not allow themselves to be trapped by this "little game." They expect to be abundantly supplied with money from Asa Packer's well filled coffers, and are developing very early in the canvass. All their money, and all their tricks will prove futile. Geary and Williams will just as certainly be elected, as that the day of election will come.

WHO WERE THERE.—Bad as Harrisburg is, it never saw such a collection of thieves, pick-pockets and scoundrels, as surrounded the Democratic convention. "Be wary of Pick-pockets" was posted up in every direction. Frank Hughes, of Pottsville, declared on the floor of the convention, that the entrance was "lined with pick-pockets." Senator Buckalew, the President of the convention, lost his pocket-book and all his money, while a number of other gentlemen were relieved of money and watches. No less than thirty-one persons were committed to prison, charged with various offences. What a commentary on "modern democracy!"

THE LEGISLATURE.—We observe that Dr. C. R. Early has carried Elk county for Assembly. As the candidate is conceded to Elk, both Forest and Clearfield having had it, we presume Dr. Early will be the next member. This will be a serious disappointment to the Wallace clique, as they fondly hoped the Senator's bantling—John G. Hall—would be nominated. If we must have a Copperhead in this District, we prefer it should be Dr. Early to many others we could name.

GUBERNATORIAL QUALIFICATIONS.—Our friends Clyde and Wilhelm can now look up—one or the other of them may get the next Democratic nomination for Governor. Asa Packer having been an Associate Judge and a member of the Episcopal Church, has been nominated. Of course his money had nothing to do with it, therefore let Clyde and Wilhelm pitch in.

TUT-TUT!—An over-confident member of the young Democracy, declared the other day that they would elect their candidates by "two hundred and fifty thousand majority." Poor fellow! won't he feel disappointed when, after the October election, he finds that his calculations fall short only about two hundred and eighty thousand votes?

THE RAILROAD CANDIDATE.—Asa Packer is emphatically the Railroad candidate. The New Yorkers achieved a victory in his nomination, and revenge the Fort Wayne and Chicago lease to the Penn. Central. The man who votes for Asa Packer, simply votes for the New York railroads, and against the interests of his own State.

QUERY?—If the Democracy—who were so profuse in their denunciations of "roosters," "rings," &c., last winter—were in earnest, how does it come that they failed to put a plank into their platform denouncing "Legislative corruption?" Do tell!

The Two P's.

The agony is over. The mountain has labored and brought forth a couple of very small mice. The "Democratic" convention has met and adjourned. Brick Pomeroy, with his stunning shirt front, and Alderman McMullen with his escort of thieves and pick-pockets have gone home. Buckalew, minus $200, has returned to his briefs, and Wallace, though he got into the wrong car and found himself in Lebanon, at length beams upon his satellites on the court-house steps.

The military had to succumb to the civil. Hancock could only get 21 votes, while "Buckey" McCandless, the gallant Philadelphia General could only raise 3. Even Gen. Geo. W. Cass, who, though educated at West Point at the expense of the Government, withheld his services during the whole period of the rebellion, which certainly should have entitled him to Democratic gratitude, was cruelly slaughtered—and the nomination was given to Packer—Asa Packer—whose only qualification for Governor, is that he has amassed a colossal fortune of twenty millions of dollars.

Mr. Packer is a Yankee, who left the State of Connecticut, where he was born, when about 18 years of age. He had no education of any consequence, but having located at an early day in the heart of the anthracite coal region, his yankee shrewdness enabled him to take advantage of the rapid development going on around him, to accumulate a fortune. He has been in Congress and in the Legislature, but never evinced any knowledge of statesmanship or politics in either. He was a silent member making no speeches, and very seldom voting, his large business interests absorbing his attention to the exclusion of the affairs of his constituents. His money obtained him the nomination. He is a railroad king and a millionaire, and hence a suitable candidate for a Democratic party. Had he been a poor man, his name would never have been mentioned. But being the very leader of the aristocracy of wealth in Pennsylvania, he is selected as the standard bearer of the party claiming to be the "poor man's party!" He was simply nominated to be led by the corrupt clique that controls the Democratic organization. They expect by this appeal to his over-weening vanity, in his old age, (he is 64 years old), to pocket a large slice of his immense fortune. Randall, McMullen & Co., will be in high clover, and Packer will wake up the morning of the second Wednesday of October, to find his pocket as empty as Buckalew's after he runs the gauntlet of thieves to get into the convention, and himself the worst whipped man that ever ran for an office in Pennsylvania.

Cyrus L. Pershing, the candidate for Supreme Judge, is about a third-rate, Cambria county lawyer. Robt. L. Johnston, Esq., is the leading member of the Cambria county Bar, and is far better fitted, both by professional experience and learning, for the Supreme Bench than Mr. Pershing, who resides in Johnstown, and has never done anything to entitle him to such a distinction, save his faithful and bigoted adhesion to the "Democratic" party. He studied law with Judge Black, from whom he imbibed his states-rights, nullification, and Calhoun principles, but seems to have learned little else, for he is entirely destitute of a single spark of his preceptor's genius, or of the slightest approximation to his great ability. He has never, even, had a large practice in his own county, and has held no position other than member of the Legislature, in which he did nothing to distinguish himself. He made a speech at the Democratic mass meeting here in 1866, and many of our readers will recollect that it was so dry, uninteresting, and feeble that he could not hold his audience. He is a "poor stick" out of which to make a Supreme Judge, and fortunately for the honor of the State, there is not the slightest prospect of his election.

So much for the two P's. They will be so effectually Pounded, Peppered and Packed away, that they will never again be heard of after the second Tuesday of October.

THE DOCTOR AT A FUNERAL.—The Harrisburg Patriot having made the announcement that "the Democratic party of Pennsylvania have resolved to make the XVth Article a prominent issue in the coming campaign," and that (the article) is not an amendment to the Constitution, but a mutilation of that instrument," the Williamsport Bulletin fittingly responds: "As the XVth Article is a settled matter, so far as Pennsylvania is concerned, and cannot be reversed, this looks very much like sending for a doctor to attend a corpse. However, it is nothing new for the 'Democratic' party to make dead issues prominent in their campaigns. That is the incubus which has dragged the party down, and will, from present appearances, keep it down, 'as we go marching on!'"

BEAR THIS IN MIND.—There is one thing to be borne in mind by the people who are not fond of frequent, sudden and radical changes in affairs of government, and that is, if the Democrats succeed there will be a change so immediate and radical in the policy of government as to threaten with destruction every interest in the land. Nor will party which has been so long out of power and thirsting for the spoils of office, be at all likely to administer the government upon the economical principles by which the Republican party has been governed. On the contrary, it is certain that the hungry outside thieves who rule the nominal rulers will force a lavish and profligate policy in order that they may glut themselves with plunder.

CRIME WILL BE PUNISHED.—Jeff Davis and his family are in Paris and so poor that appeals have been made to the charitable to relieve their wants. Benedict Arnold died a wretched death, in the midst of rags and filth, in a London garret. The arch-traitor Davis bids fair to follow the example.

GETTING POPULAR.—"The damned yankees," arising in the market. Asa Packer being a "yankee," there will be no more "darning" of them until after the election.

The Registry Law.

The enforcement of the Registry Law, for Pennsylvania, now declared constitutional, should claim the attention of every good citizen who desires to stop cheating and have fair elections, no matter to what party he belongs. The Law is in no respect partisan in its character. It falls upon all alike. It protects the interests of both parties by insuring to each a representative in every election board. The theory of the Law is that every duly qualified voter should be secured in his right of suffrage, and those only who are not qualified to vote under our State law, should be debarred the privilege. It is well said by Judge Agnew, in behalf of the majority of the Court:

"The election is not free and equal where the true electors are not separated from the false; where the ballot is not deposited in safety, or where it is supplanted by fraud. It is, therefore, the duty of the Legislature to secure freedom and equality by such regulations as will exclude the unqualified and allow the qualified only to vote."

And again:

"When the population of a locality is constantly changing, and the electors are often unknown to their next door neighbors; where a large number is floating upon the rivers and the sea, going and returning, and incapable of identification; where low inns, restaurants, and boarding houses constantly afford the means of fraudulent additions to the lists of voters, what rule of sound reason or of constitutional law forbids the Legislature, from providing a means to distinguish the honest people of Philadelphia or elsewhere from the rogues and vagabonds who would usurp their places and rob them of their rights."

Nobody can object to this who does not want to cheat, either for his own purposes or those of his party, and the Democratic papers that are howling against the law, virtually admit that their party has done all the cheating at elections heretofore, and think it essentially necessary to do so in the future in order to win success.

PACKER AND THE PLATFORM.—The New York Tribune of Thursday says: "Asa Packer, whom the Democrats of Pennsylvania have just nominated for Governor, would hardly do to run on the same ticket with Gen. Rosecrans, whom the Democrats of the next State westward are trying their worst to support with all show of cheerfulness. He is a man reputed wise, because of a faculty of looking wise and keeping quiet. In Tammany Hall last Summer the Pennsylvania Democrats tried long to persuade the Convention that he was a fit man for the Presidency, but with very indifferent success. They are not now likely to have any better luck in trying to persuade their own people of his fitness for the Governorship. They are inclined to think that they have not made the most of their opportunities. Gen. George W. Cass, who fell only 10 votes behind Mr. Packer on the first ballot, would have been a much stronger candidate. The platform of the old sort. We read that the negro should not have the ballot, that our finances are in a dreadful bad way, and will never be better until the Democrats handle the money, that the Reconstruction policy leads to Imperialism, and that our taxation is tyrannical. On the whole the candidate and the platform fit well together, and both are exceedingly well adapted for defeat."

THE NATIONAL DEBT AND THE DEMOCRACY.—The New York Tribune says: "Our Government is paying off the principal of its debt with a rapidity entirely unprecedented. Yet Mr. Buckalew, in his address to the Democratic State Convention of Pennsylvania, had the extraordinary assurance to say that the Democracy 'did not believe that party ought to be upheld which had failed to extinguish, as it ought to have done, some five or six hundreds of millions of public debt.' As the Democracy is inflexibly opposed to taxation and other means of revenue, we don't see how it could extinguish the debt any faster, except by repudiation. Is that roguery coming up again?"

A DEMOCRAT'S OPINION.—The New York Herald thus curtly disposes of Wednesday's work at Harrisburg:

"The Democrats in Pennsylvania have nominated Asa Packer as their candidate for Governor. Asa Packer would make a good Governor, but the convention that nominated him have hung a bob to that kite which will swamp him. They have pronounced against negro suffrage, a principle the Conservatives of Virginia accepted as a positive fact, and by the help of that vote not only elected their candidate for Governor, but gave a death sting to the carpet buggers and scalawags. The Pennsylvania Democracy, in smouldering Heister Clymer, their old candidate, have only presented a new victim to be placed upon the political scaffold for the Geary daws to peck at."

TONNAGE TAX.—The Supreme Court has decided several cases, involving the validity of the tonnage tax. In all cases the Court sustained the law imposing the tax. A number of railroad companies had neglected or refused to pay the tax for several years. The State instituted suits to recover it in the lower courts, where the law was uniformly pronounced unconstitutional. The Supreme Court reversed these decisions, and pronounced the law imposing the tax constitutional. A large amount is due the State from railroad companies, and they will now have to pay.

"FRESH BLOOD!"—S. B. Wilson, Esq., the leader of the Democratic party of Beaver county, in opposing the nomination of Hancock, for Governor, in the late County Convention, declared that "he did not want any man with fresh blood on his hands, as a Democratic candidate for office." Let every soldier take notice how he is regarded by the Copperhead leaders. No wonder Hancock, McCandless, and even Case were slaughtered at Harrisburg.

GOV. GEARY.—The New York Herald says: "Gov. Geary is the strongest man the Republicans have. He carried the State on a full vote in 1866 by 20,000 majority. . . . The days of Copperheadism 'came to an end last November.' The Herald ought to be pretty good authority in the Democratic camp; and, by the above, it virtually acknowledges the defeat of Packer and Pershing in October next. Remember the prediction.

A Little of Everything.

A bad habit—swearing.
A fiery steed—horse radish.

The Democratic Platform.

The following is the platform adopted by the late Democratic convention, at Harrisburg:

The democracy of Pennsylvania, in convention met, do unanimously declare—

1. That the federal government is limited in power to the grants contained in the Federal Constitution; that the exercise of doubtful constitutional powers is dangerous to the stability of the government and the safety of the people, and the Democratic party will never consent that the State of Pennsylvania shall surrender, her great right of local self-government.

2. That the attempted ratification of the proposed fifteenth amendment to the Federal Constitution by the radical members of the last legislature, and their refusal to submit the same to a vote of the people, was a deliberate breach of their official duty and an outrage upon every citizen of the State, and the resolution making such ratification should be promptly repealed and the amendment submitted to the people at the polls for acceptance or rejection.

3. That the Democratic party of Pennsylvania is opposed to conferring upon the negro the right to vote, and we do emphatically deny that there is any right or power in Congress or elsewhere to impose negro suffrage upon the people of this State in opposition to their will.

4. That reform in the administration of the federal and State governments, and in the management of their financial affairs is imperatively demanded.

5. That the movement now being made for the amelioration of the condition of the laboring man has our most cordial co-operation.

6. That the legislation of the late republican Congress "outside of the Constitution," the disregard of the majority therein of the will of the people and sanctity of the ballot box, in the exclusion from their seats in Congress of representatives clearly elected, the establishing of military governments in States in the Union and the overthrow of all civil governments therein, are acts of tyranny and usurpation that tend directly to the destruction of all republican government and the creation of the worst forms of despotism.

7. That our soldiers and sailors, who carried the flag of our country to victory, must be gratefully remembered, and all the guarantees given in their favor must be faithfully carried into execution.

8. Equal rights and protection for naturalized and native-born citizens at home and abroad; the assertion of American nationality which shall command the respect of foreign powers and furnish an example and encouragement to people struggling for national integrity, constitutional liberty and individual rights.

9. That the present internal revenue and taxing system of the general government is grossly unjust, and means ought at once to be adopted to cause a modification thereof.

WIKEN GEN. ROSECRANS commanded Union soldiers he had a poor opinion of Copperheads. It was he who sent Vallandigham across the lines over into rebellion, to the great disgust of Copperheads generally. As he has now been nominated by that party for Governor of Ohio, it may pertinently be asked: Has Rosecrans gone over to the Copperheads, or have the Copperheads gone over to Rosecrans?

The Democracy of Virginia are fearful that Walker, the newly elected Governor, will prove on their hands much more than they bargained for, as he is believed to be in opposition to their politics, as well as to several pet railway schemes already under way. They propose to elect him to the United States Senate for the long term and thus dispose of his influence in State matters.

One of the greatest slurs ever cast into the face of a Union soldier is the seventh article in the new Democratic platform—"that our soldiers and sailors must be gratefully remembered, &c."—and the nomination of Asa Packer over two brave soldiers, Generals Hancock and McCandless. Such palaver is disgusting.

JUST SO!—The Democracy are slow to learn wisdom from experience. Last year they were sanguine of carrying the State, but the result was defeat. So it will be now. Neither their boasts, nor their candidates' millions, will save them from defeat in October next.

FRIGHTFUL CHARGE.—One of the enemies of Gen. Grant's administration says he has no policy at all but honesty. There is an old saying that "honesty is the best policy."

OMITTED.—The new Democratic platform is entirely silent on the subject of "bloated bondholders." Asa's "twenty millions" and the "bloated bondholders" would not fit.

A WARNING.—Here is a warning to all persons who think to improve the complexion which nature has given them. One George Neal, of Truettborough, Mass., being desirous of improving his personal beauty, was in the habit of taking "Fowler's Solution," which is a preparation of arsenic.

An over dose last week finished George Neal. As the use of arsenic in one form or another, as a beautifier, has become altogether too common, it may be well for the young men and women to contemplate the sad fate of George Neal, who certainly has finally succeeded in permanently improving his complexion.

ANOTHER CABLE.—The French cable has been successfully laid, and messages have been exchanged between the two countries. As an event denoting the advancement of the world in civilization and christianity, it is of the first importance. As an event conferring immense benefits on commerce and all that inheres with closer relations and immediate communication between nations, it is of the highest consequence. No quibble about the right to land on the American shore without the consent of Congress should prevent or hinder, even for a moment, the consummation of such an enterprise.

HORRIBLE DEATH.—The Erie Dispatch says: A telegram has been received at Girard, announcing that Charles White, the lion tamer, traveling with Thayer's Menagerie, was actually eaten up by the lions on Friday night, in a small town in Michigan. He is said to have been struck on the shoulder by the same lion that came so near killing him at Rochester, knocked him down, and the others at once sprang on him and before they could be beaten off, had torn him to pieces and devoured the greater portion of his body.

THE NORTH CAROLINIAN.—This is a new candidate for public favor, just started at Elizabeth City, N. Carolina, by P. John, Esq., formerly editor of the Columbia (Pa.) Republican. The "North Carolinian" is Republican in politics, but will be devoted especially to the advancement of local interests in the old "North State." The Doctor is a ready writer, and will make the paper worthy the support of the people in whose midst he has located. We wish him abundant success in his new enterprise.

POISONOUS WORM.—The Doctor (Ill.) Republican of a late issue, contains the following: "People at this season should look out for the large worm which infests the tomato vine. It is a deadly poison. It is of a green color, two or three inches long, and as large as a man's finger. At Red Creek, Wayne county, a few days ago, a servant girl, while gathering tomatoes, received a puncture from one of these worms, which created a sensation similar to that of a bee sting. In a short time the poison penetrated to every part of her system, and she was thrown into spasms which ended in death."

INCREDULOUS.—There are some folks who strenuously deny that it cost $100,000 to secure Packer's nomination. The incredulous assert, (and perhaps they know), that it was secured by less than half that sum. The "uninstructed" delegates probably learned something about it at the Bolton House.
